Festanation, 2018

We have a phrase in English to describe someone like Damjan, and that is that he truly is a 'gentleman and a scholar'. Kind-hearted, diligent and with a great work ethic, we brought Damjan in as a photographer for our event and we weren't disappointed as he created some real visual memories for both the crew and the guests with his work. Well loved and respected by his peers, Damjan would be a real asset to anyone looking for similar experiences. Not afraid to get stuck in, join in with the activities as part of either a small or a large group, we loved having Damjan as part of our crew for this event and would love to have him back for anything in future if he was ever keen. – Mark Larwood, GM for Festanation
